Caroline Whelan

Science Officer Materials, Physics and Nanosciences

Caroline is a materials scientist who graduated with a BSc in Analytical Science in 1994 for which she was awarded the Gold Medal of Excellence and a PhD in Chemistry in 1998, both from Dublin City University. She specialises in basic and applied experimental research on exploratory materials for nanoelectronic applications. She has extensive experience with state-of-the-art material characterisation techniques with a particular interest in ultra-high vacuum based analysis and synchrotron radiation sources. She has over 60 peer reviewed publications, several patents, edited a book and co-authored over 80 International Conference contributions.
